

Everywhere I sleep, I see Dust Bowl, 13 of 15

from Dorothea Lange's photograph "U.S. 99 on ridge over Tehachapi Mountains. Heavy truck route between Los Angeles and San Joaquin Valley over which migrants travel back and forth. California." (May 1939)

FENCE (N): EARLY 14c., ACTION OF DEFENDING, RESISTANCE; MEANS OF PROTECTION, FORTIFICATION," SHORTENING OF DEFENS.

They said go west. We went west. They said remove the people from their land. We removed the people from the land. They said flatten the land to grow. We flattened the land and began sowing. They said sell the what and asked put for market value. They said rails and traveled for profit. They said put up telephone poles to fences roads communicate. We put up faster. They said now we put phone in. They said put up fences to prevent animals straying into traffic. We never strayed
